tabletop simulator the great dinosaur rush

Got this to play with my son who loves Dinosaurs. So far we are learning the rules and it looks fun to play. One minor thing I noticed while watching a youtube to help learn the rules is the "Publicity" points listed on the Tabletop Simulator DLC gameboard are from large to small instead of small to large as the actual gameboard or the board shown on page 10 of the rulebook. DLC gameboard: Class A 21/15/10 Class B 15/10/7 .and so on. Class F 2/1/0 Actual board Pg 10 rulebook: Class A 2/1/0 Class B 4/2/1 .and so on. Class F 21/15/10 UPDATE: Just finished first game with son. My son gives it two thumbs up. It took us a couple hours but we were still figuring out the rules. By the third round things moved faster. Since just the two of us were playing, my son easily saw I was increasing publicity of ribs and he lowered the points on his turn and built more ribs in his dino to counter me. I think it would be more fun with more than two players. The best part he enjoyed was the build phase. One thing I'd like to see is a bigger hidden area to do the build. By the third round the dinosaurs were hard to hide due to the number
